Hi,

I am currently tied up in an all-day executive board meeting and cannot take calls. We are finalizing an urgent vendor acquisition today. I need you to initiate a wire payment of $24,500 to our external consultant immediately.

Reply to this email directly once you see this so I can send you the wire routing instructions. Keep this confidential until the announcement next week.

Thanks,
CEO

I have bad news for you. A few months ago, I infected the router you use to connect to the internet with a zero-day exploit. Since then, I have had full access to your device, your camera, and your browsing history.

I have compiled a video showing what you watch online, side-by-side with footage from your webcam. If you do not want me to send this video to your entire email contact list and your family, you must pay me a protection fee.

Transfer $1,500 in Bitcoin (BTC) to my wallet address below:
